

The Democratic Situation from a Special Stand-point.

Horace Greeley's Opinion of the Presidential Stock Market.

Prospects of all the Candidates Before the Convention.

THE PLATFORM.

The Second Day a Brilliant and Complete Success.

Special Telegraphic Letter to the Louisville Journal.

NEW YORK, July 6.

PENNDOTEL.
Nothing which occurred in the convention to-day is considered a real criterion as to the choice of a candidate for President, although the election of Horatio Seymour for permanent President of the body and the refusal to repeat the two-thirds rule are claimed by the bondholders to be a signal in the direction of some other candidate than Pendleton.

After the adoption of the platform to-morrow morning the convention will immediately proceed to ballot for the Presidential nominees. Everything indicates a very lively contest, as the feeling runs high, and those for and against Pendleton are about equally determined to carry their point. It is universally conceded that Pendleton will receive the largest number of votes, the first ballot, his friends claiming that he will receive 120 votes on that ballot. They claim that on the third or fourth ballot he will command 180 votes, while it requires 272 to nominate. Whether he can secure that number on succeeding ballots it is really hard to tell just now. Although it is not at all improbable, as a large number of delegates are uncommitted and may decide to cast their votes for the strongest man. It is probable that a large number of ballots will be taken, and that the nominations may not be effected before Wednesday or Thursday.

SEMINOLE.—CHURCH.
Mr. Seymour has temporarily declined to allow his name to go before the convention, and the New York delegation have decided to present the name of Sanford E. Church.

There will probably be not less than eight or ten candidates balloted for, and it is broadly hinted now that, failing to nominate from the prominent names now mentioned, the convention may fall back on Andy Johnson as a compromise candidate.

HANCOCK.
Next to Pendleton, Hancock will probably receive the most votes on the first ballot. There is very decided opposition to Chase from the straight Democrats, and his nomination is hardly probable.

VANDALIARD.—Mr. Vandaliard has taken a seat in the convention in place of Wash. McLean, resigned, and took quite a prominent part in the proceedings to-day.

FOREST.
A diplomatic political entered Gen. Forrest's room last night after that gentleman had retired, and was proceeding to enter into interrogations with him looking to the purchase of the votes of the Tennessee delegation, when Forrest jumped out of bed and kicked the intruder out of the room and down stairs.

THE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.
Such enthusiasm was probably never witnessed in a public meeting as that to-day, when the committee from the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention was received in the National Convention.

SECOND DISPATCH.
New York, July 6.
TO-DAY'S SESSION.
The proceedings of both the regular convention and the Soldiers' and Sailors' "side show" to-day were eminently successful, and the spirit that prevails to-night is harmonious and hopeful.

THE PRESIDENT.
Andrew Johnson is gaining ground decidedly. His letter which has just been published here adds to his strength. His friends have issued a pamphlet, which closes thus: "Revolution threatens us. It is boldly proposed by radical leaders to depose the President and induce Grant into the White House as his successor. These plots can only be met successfully by Andrew Johnson, backed by the Democratic party of the nation, and the party gives him the support he needs to go as far as the furthest toward the overthrow and punishment of the traitors."

RADICALS.
The story about money being used to buy up delegations is a radical invention. Nothing of the kind is probable. Nor is the story that John C. Breckinridge is in the city in disguise even possible. I have seen a letter from him only two days old, in which he makes no allusion to politics, but says, "I shall spend the balance of the summer in Canada."

THIRD DISPATCH.
New York, July 6.
Gen. McClellan is spoken of by Democratic Soldiers and Sailors as a candidate for Vice President.

The indications at this hour (half past twelve P. M.) are that the committee on a platform will not be able to agree on any of the strong points, and that the money plots will be compromised.

The strong points to-day are still crowded, and there is little prospect of sleep in New York to-night.

Horace Greeley says this is a more rousing convention than ever assembled except that which nominated Henry Clay in 1844. The radicals here generally admit that it is a wonderful success.

MEMPHIS AGREE.
The Pendleton men still express a great deal of confidence, but it is found that he has a good many secret enemies among those who profess to be his friends. These may combine with Wall street to secure his defeat. The fight is being made over the platform to-night, and it will affect Pendleton's prospects. The Eastern men are making a strong demand, and no agreement has yet been reached. Several strong speeches on both sides have been made. The committee will sit all night.

THE LOUISVILLE DAILY JOURNAL.

LOUISVILLE, TUESDAY, JULY 7, 1868.

NUMBER 187.

VOLUME XXXVIII.

THE PRESIDENCY.

Patriotic Letter from Andrew Johnson.

NEW YORK, July 6.

A number of citizens of New York, on the 24th of June, addressed a letter to President Johnson, asking permission that his name be presented to the Democratic Convention as a candidate for the Presidency. Mr. Johnson replied as follows:

WASHINGTON, June 29, 1868.

GENTLEMEN.—To your friendly inquiry whether, if desired desirable for the preservation and unity of our country, I would permit my name to be presented to the Democratic Convention as a candidate for the office of President, I say, indeed, of further endurance in that elaborate and responsible position, by far the most general and unequivocal that it would be an interest by the people of my endeavor to defend the reserved rights of the several commonwealths composing what was once for the Federal Union.

It is in the present ten years of parties, I can perhaps have no reasonable expectation. All history proves that men who in official position oppose for private gain, should be disengaged by signs of authority to acquire power, usually find more determined assailants than they do.

He is in the measure which, although sustained by Congress, I honestly believe to be unconstitutional, and to which the entire nation has acquiesced and seemingly ungraciously by an opposition powerful, well organized, and possessed of a large majority of the nation's tax revenue, should be resisted.

[Load cheering.] If regulation is a natural right, and the right of self-government is a natural right, then the right of the people to redress grievances of this country that repudiate the principles of the Constitution.

Mr. Johnson closed his speech as follows:

Washington, June 29, 1868.

—RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, submitted a series of resolutions, which were referred without debate.

The resolutions of the State Convention of Pennsylvania were referred without debate.

Mr. Nelson of Tennessee, moved the admission of the delegates from the Democratic conventions of that State who had been denied a seat in the House of Representatives.

Mr. Brewer of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That no gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman shall be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives for President of the United States, unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes.

Mr. Vandaliard—I rise to a point of order; already this convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and that motion is in order. The question is, whether it is passed by the convention adopted the rules of the convention.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the gentleman

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

(See Ads inserted in this column at $1 per line per month.)

A. EBDORON & CO., TRON., Auction & Commission Merchants, 30 Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

B. AND W. STONE, Architects and Engineers, 100 Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

D. BARKERHOUSE & CO., Gentl. Commissioners of Forwarding Merchants, 127 Main.

F. CALDWELL & CO., Tailor of Music, 70 Main, bet. 2d and 3d.

G. RAY & BERRY, Druggist, retail, wholesale and general, 100 Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

H. EGAN BROTHERS, Wall Paper, Window Shades, etc., 30 Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

K. KELLY & CO., Tailor, Watchmaker, Third, bet. Main and Market.

KENNEDY BEN. D., General Insurance Agent, 100 Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

L. O'DOWD'S HOTEL, M. Keen & Co., proprietors, Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

M. LUDOWIC, BULLETT & CO., Steam Merchant, 100 Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

N. NEWCOMB, BUCHANAN, & CO., Wholesale and General Merchants, 100 Main.

N. NEW STATE STORE, S. Barker, Co., Dry Goods, 100 Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

P. PORTER, FAIRFAX & CO., Cotton and Woolen Druggists, Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

R. DIXIE & CLEWTON, Druggists, in Second and Grand, 6th, bet. Main and Market.

S. BARNARD & CO., Dealers in Medicine and Perfumery, 100 Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

T. B. ROBINSON & CO. B., Wholesale Druggists, 100 Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

U. ROGERS & SONS, MRS. G., Furniture Goods, 77 Main, bet. Main and Walnut.

V. SCHROEDER & J. H. WOOD, Lumber, 100 Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

W. THOMAS & CO. O. W., General Commission Merchants, 100 Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

W. WILDER & CO., EDWARD, Washall Drugstore, Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

W. WILDER & CO., FRED, Clothing, 100 Main, bet. 6th and 7th.

Louisville Journal.

TUESDAY, JULY 7, 3 A.M.

THE CITY.

And Suburbs.

Our efforts to furnish the best, liveliest, and freshest newspaper in this section, were richly rewarded by large additions to our subscription lists during the past week, which were beyond anything we dared expect. These full times, notwithstanding the exciting news from the Convention.

Published.

Notwithstanding the publication of large extra numbers of the Journal on yesterday, it was exhausted before 10 o'clock, and we were compelled to discontinue our subscription lists during the past week, which were beyond anything we dared expect. These full times, notwithstanding the exciting news from the Convention.

The Printed Page.

The draw of the railroad bridge over the canal was open yesterday for the first time. It appeared to work all right. A large number of people gathered to see the novelty.

The Connection Again.

To the Editor of the Louisville Journal. We have recently read two very able and well-written communications published in your paper, concerning the signature of R. R. They were convincing, and seemed to be conceived, in a large and liberal spirit; but it may be in the opinion of many that a mind capable of grasping a subject so fully and completely lay down upon the pen, as was done by the young missionaries, explaining the motives which led them to seek the foreign field, and to labor.

These young, brief, simple words, however, did not meet the ear of the public, and the earnest desire to labor for the spread of the gospel, and showed also that they are young men of ordinary gifts.

Measures were taken to furnish the church upon its members to sustain those who were not yet prepared to render services. It was stated by Dr. Robinson that the children of the Sabbath schools will support the missionaries when they are landed in America.

J. H. D.

Another Victim.

Death from Infidelity and Ex-posure.

Our busy Conover was summoned yesterday to hold an inquest upon the body of a young man, John R. K. We presume there is no enlightened citizen of Louisville who is not opposed to any form of the vice. He was lying in his bed, the victim of his sins, when he was found dead at 12 o'clock Saturday night, from the effects of a large number of pills and subsequent exposure. This makes the fourth death from the same cause in the city.

It is evident that a mind capable of grasping a subject so fully and completely lay down upon the pen, as was done by the young missionaries, explaining the motives which led them to seek the foreign field, and to labor.

These young, brief, simple words, however, did not meet the ear of the public, and the earnest desire to labor for the spread of the gospel, and showed also that they are young men of ordinary gifts.

Measures were taken to furnish the church upon its members to sustain those who were not yet prepared to render services. It was stated by Dr. Robinson that the children of the Sabbath schools will support the missionaries when they are landed in America.

J. H. D.

The Connection Again.

Death from Infidelity and Ex-posure.

Our busy Conover was summoned yesterday to hold an inquest upon the body of a young man, John R. K. We presume there is no enlightened citizen of Louisville who is not opposed to any form of the vice. He was lying in his bed, the victim of his sins, when he was found dead at 12 o'clock Saturday night, from the effects of a large number of pills and subsequent exposure. This makes the fourth death from the same cause in the city.

It is evident that a mind capable of grasping a subject so fully and completely lay down upon the pen, as was done by the young missionaries, explaining the motives which led them to seek the foreign field, and to labor.

These young, brief, simple words, however, did not meet the ear of the public, and the earnest desire to labor for the spread of the gospel, and showed also that they are young men of ordinary gifts.

Measures were taken to furnish the church upon its members to sustain those who were not yet prepared to render services. It was stated by Dr. Robinson that the children of the Sabbath schools will support the missionaries when they are landed in America.

J. H. D.

The Connection Again.

Death from Infidelity and Ex-posure.

Our busy Conover was summoned yesterday to hold an inquest upon the body of a young man, John R. K. We presume there is no enlightened citizen of Louisville who is not opposed to any form of the vice. He was lying in his bed, the victim of his sins, when he was found dead at 12 o'clock Saturday night, from the effects of a large number of pills and subsequent exposure. This makes the fourth death from the same cause in the city.

It is evident that a mind capable of grasping a subject so fully and completely lay down upon the pen, as was done by the young missionaries, explaining the motives which led them to seek the foreign field, and to labor.

These young, brief, simple words, however, did not meet the ear of the public, and the earnest desire to labor for the spread of the gospel, and showed also that they are young men of ordinary gifts.

Measures were taken to furnish the church upon its members to sustain those who were not yet prepared to render services. It was stated by Dr. Robinson that the children of the Sabbath schools will support the missionaries when they are landed in America.

J. H. D.

The Connection Again.

Death from Infidelity and Ex-posure.

Our busy Conover was summoned yesterday to hold an inquest upon the body of a young man, John R. K. We presume there is no enlightened citizen of Louisville who is not opposed to any form of the vice. He was lying in his bed, the victim of his sins, when he was found dead at 12 o'clock Saturday night, from the effects of a large number of pills and subsequent exposure. This makes the fourth death from the same cause in the city.

It is evident that a mind capable of grasping a subject so fully and completely lay down upon the pen, as was done by the young missionaries, explaining the motives which led them to seek the foreign field, and to labor.

These young, brief, simple words, however, did not meet the ear of the public, and the earnest desire to labor for the spread of the gospel, and showed also that they are young men of ordinary gifts.

Measures were taken to furnish the church upon its members to sustain those who were not yet prepared to render services. It was stated by Dr. Robinson that the children of the Sabbath schools will support the missionaries when they are landed in America.

J. H. D.

The Connection Again.

Death from Infidelity and Ex-posure.

Our busy Conover was summoned yesterday to hold an inquest upon the body of a young man, John R. K. We presume there is no enlightened citizen of Louisville who is not opposed to any form of the vice. He was lying in his bed, the victim of his sins, when he was found dead at 12 o'clock Saturday night, from the effects of a large number of pills and subsequent exposure. This makes the fourth death from the same cause in the city.

It is evident that a mind capable of grasping a subject so fully and completely lay down upon the pen, as was done by the young missionaries, explaining the motives which led them to seek the foreign field, and to labor.

These young, brief, simple words, however, did not meet the ear of the public, and the earnest desire to labor for the spread of the gospel, and showed also that they are young men of ordinary gifts.

Measures were taken to furnish the church upon its members to sustain those who were not yet prepared to render services. It was stated by Dr. Robinson that the children of the Sabbath schools will support the missionaries when they are landed in America.

J. H. D.

The Connection Again.

Death from Infidelity and Ex-posure.

Our busy Conover was summoned yesterday to hold an inquest upon the body of a young man, John R. K. We presume there is no enlightened citizen of Louisville who is not opposed to any form of the vice. He was lying in his bed, the victim of his sins, when he was found dead at 12 o'clock Saturday night, from the effects of a large number of pills and subsequent exposure. This makes the fourth death from the same cause in the city.

It is evident that a mind capable of grasping a subject so fully and completely lay down upon the pen, as was done by the young missionaries, explaining the motives which led them to seek the foreign field, and to labor.

These young, brief, simple words, however, did not meet the ear of the public, and the earnest desire to labor for the spread of the gospel, and showed also that they are young men of ordinary gifts.

Measures were taken to furnish the church upon its members to sustain those who were not yet prepared to render services. It was stated by Dr. Robinson that the children of the Sabbath schools will support the missionaries when they are landed in America.

J. H. D.

The Connection Again.

Death from Infidelity and Ex-posure.

Our busy Conover was summoned yesterday to hold an inquest upon the body of a young man, John R. K. We presume there is no enlightened citizen of Louisville who is not opposed to any form of the vice. He was lying in his bed, the victim of his sins, when he was found dead at 12 o'clock Saturday night, from the effects of a large number of pills and subsequent exposure. This makes the fourth death from the same cause in the city.

It is evident that a mind capable of grasping a subject so fully and completely lay down upon the pen, as was done by the young missionaries, explaining the motives which led them to seek the foreign field, and to labor.

These young, brief, simple words, however, did not meet the ear of the public, and the earnest desire to labor for the spread of the gospel, and showed also that they are young men of ordinary gifts.

Measures were taken to furnish the church upon its members to sustain those who were not yet prepared to render services. It was stated by Dr. Robinson that the children of the Sabbath schools will support the missionaries when they are landed in America.

J. H. D.

The Connection Again.

Death from Infidelity and Ex-posure.

Our busy Conover was summoned yesterday to hold an inquest upon the body of a young man, John R. K. We presume there is no enlightened citizen of Louisville who is not opposed to any form of the vice. He was lying in his bed, the victim of his sins, when he was found dead at 12 o'clock Saturday night, from the effects of a large number of pills and subsequent exposure. This makes the fourth death from the same cause in the city.

It is evident that a mind capable of grasping a subject so fully and completely lay down upon the pen, as was done by the young missionaries, explaining the motives which led them to seek the foreign field, and to labor.

These young, brief, simple words, however, did not meet the ear of the public, and the earnest desire to labor for the spread of the gospel, and showed also that they are young men of ordinary gifts.

Measures were taken to furnish the church upon its members to sustain those who were not yet prepared to render services. It was stated by Dr. Robinson that the children of the Sabbath schools will support the missionaries when they are landed in America.

J. H. D.

The Connection Again.

Death from Infidelity and Ex-posure.

Our busy Conover was summoned yesterday to hold an inquest upon the body of a young man, John R. K. We presume there is no enlightened citizen of Louisville who is not opposed to any form of the vice. He was lying in his bed, the victim of his sins, when he was found dead at 12 o'clock Saturday night, from the effects of a large number of pills and subsequent exposure. This makes the fourth death from the same cause in the city.

It is evident that a mind capable of grasping a subject so fully and completely lay down upon the pen, as was done by the young missionaries, explaining the motives which led them to seek the foreign field, and to labor.

These young, brief, simple words, however, did not meet the ear of the public, and the earnest desire to labor for the spread of the gospel, and showed also that they are young men of ordinary gifts.

Measures were taken to furnish the church upon its members to sustain those who were not yet prepared to render services. It was stated by Dr. Robinson that the children of the Sabbath schools will support the missionaries when they are landed in America.

J. H. D.

The Connection Again.

Death from Infidelity and Ex-posure.

Our busy Conover was summoned yesterday to hold an inquest upon the body of a young man, John R. K. We presume there is no enlightened citizen of Louisville who is not opposed to any form of the vice. He was lying in his bed, the victim of his sins, when he was found dead at 12 o'clock Saturday night, from the effects of a large number of pills and subsequent exposure. This makes the fourth death from the same cause in the city.

It is evident that a mind capable of grasping a subject so fully and completely lay down upon the pen, as was done by the young missionaries, explaining the motives which led them to seek the foreign field, and to labor.

These young, brief, simple words, however, did not meet the ear of the public, and the earnest desire to labor for the spread of the gospel, and showed also that they are young men of ordinary gifts.

Measures were taken to furnish the church upon its members to sustain those who were not yet prepared to render services. It was stated by Dr. Robinson that the children of the Sabbath schools will support the missionaries when they are landed in America.

J. H. D.

The Connection Again.

Death from Infidelity and Ex-posure.

Our busy Conover was summoned yesterday to hold an inquest upon the body of a young man, John R. K. We presume there is no enlightened citizen of Louisville who is not opposed to any form of the vice. He was lying in his bed, the victim of his sins, when he was found dead at 12 o'clock Saturday night, from the effects of a large number of pills and subsequent exposure. This makes the fourth death from the same cause in the city.

It is evident that a mind capable of grasping a subject so fully and completely lay down upon the pen, as was done by the young missionaries, explaining the motives which led them to seek the foreign field, and to labor.

These young, brief, simple words, however, did not meet the ear of the public, and the earnest desire to labor for the spread of the gospel, and showed also that they are young men of ordinary gifts.

Measures were taken to furnish the church upon its members to sustain those who were not yet prepared to render services. It was stated by Dr. Robinson that the children of the Sabbath schools will support the missionaries when they are landed in America.

J. H. D.

The Connection Again.

Death from Infidelity and Ex-posure.

Our busy Conover was summoned yesterday to hold an inquest upon the body of a young man, John R. K. We presume there is no enlightened citizen of Louisville who is not opposed to any form of the vice. He was lying in his bed, the victim of his sins, when he was found dead at 12 o'clock Saturday night, from the effects of a large number of pills and subsequent exposure. This makes the fourth death from the same cause in the city.

It is evident that a mind capable of grasping a subject so fully and completely lay down upon the pen, as was done by the young missionaries, explaining the motives which led them to seek the foreign field, and to labor.

These young, brief, simple words, however, did not meet the ear of the public, and the earnest desire to labor for the spread of the gospel, and showed also that they are young men of ordinary gifts.

Measures were taken to furnish the church upon its members to sustain those who were not yet prepared to render services. It was stated by Dr. Robinson that the